

Able to move
quickly and gracefully

Uninterested or lacking feeling

To catch or place
under arrest

Based on chance
or feelings rather than logic or reason

To speak or express thoughts
clearly

To suppose
something is true
without actually checking the facts

Bold, adventurous
or daring

The right or power
to make decisions,
give orders or control people

Having a great enthusiasm
or greed for something

Aggressive

Odd or unusual

To make something easier
to understand

To begin
something

To take something away from somebody because you have the power
to do it

Having a regular style or pattern
and not changing

Traditional and ordinary

Making you believe something that is not true

Empty and unattractive

To recognise
or understand
something that is
not clear

Unhappy, annoyed
or disappointed
about something

The richest, most powerful or best trained group

To improve the quality, value or attractiveness of something

Greater than usual

Very painful, causing agony

Capable of being done

Upset and confused

Very thin especially because of illness or hunger

Looking ill or tired, often with dark skin under the eyes

Features that belong to a particular society (such as traditions, language or buildings) that were created in the past and still have historical importance

Very important or urgent

Giving off light or glowing

No longer in use

A forceful,
sudden attack

The way that things are seen
from a particular point of view

To do with the subject

Believable or seeming to be true

Skilled

Strong and sharp
taste or smell

To criticise or give a sharp reprimand to

Money that is made or paid
to a business or organisation

Metal rings or a chain fastened to wrists or ankles to prevent a prisoner from escaping

Extremely good, beautiful or enjoyable

Wanting to do what other people want and thinking your wishes are less important than other people's

Done secretly

Worry about
something that is
going to happen

Lots of sudden
changes, unrest
or violence

The greatest or maximum

To prove that something is correct or true