Seaturtles

did you now that!

Seaturtles shells are made of scutes and they have little spikes. What do they look like? they have a hard shell they have a beak to pick at food seaturtles have little holes at the back of their shell. How do the babies get out? they climb out then they walk to the water but at night because birds and predators will eat the babies. What do they eat?

Seaturtles eat a lot but mostly seaweed and like fish and lots of food but don't forget seagrass.
